JAPANESE SEEK AN EDUCATION

TWO BOYS WILL ENTER PENDLETON ACADEMY SOON.

Amuri Kogima and George Yoshita, Japanese Domestic, Anxious to Learn American Ways—Impossible to Admit Them to Public Schools Because They Are Not the Children of Citizens—Both Are Highly Recommended—Stanford University Makes a Specialty of Educating Japanese Students.

Amuri Kogima and George Yoshita, two intelligent and progressive Japanese boys, who have worked for some time in this city as domestics, are soon to enter Pendleton Academy for the purpose of preparing themselves to do missionary work among their people.

Because the boys are not American citizens, it will be impossible to admit them to public schools, to which they first applied. They are anxious to learn American ways and gain American enlightenment, and it is quite probable that they will be admitted to the academy, beginning perhaps in the primary grade, with the full intention of becoming proficient in all the branches taught there, and if possible, graduate from the regular course of the institution.

George Yoshita is now employed as chore boy at the home of E. J. Somerville, county treasurer, and is a conscientious and energetic young man, and Rev. Robert Warner of the M. E. church, under whom the boys have been studying the subject of religion, speaks highly of both of them.

It is possible that a night school for Japanese will be opened at the academy soon, as the demand for education among them is urgent.

Most of the Japanese now in Pendleton are young men, who do not belong to either the first or second army reserves, and are, therefore, not subject to military duty at home, except as prompted by patriotism, and most of them are desirous of learning American ways and becoming proficient in American customs and learning.

Stanford University makes a specialty of offering inducements to this race of people, because when they become educated, and proficient in some of the professions, they are a constant advertisement of the institution graduating them. At the present time there are nearly 100 Japanese in the big California institution.

Shinto, a graduate of Stanford has been employed by the government department of fisheries during the past summer, studying the nature of the Columbia river salmon, and until quite recently has been located at the Ontario hatchery, with a magnificent laboratory at his disposal.

Fine County Barn.

One of the finest barns in the county has just been completed by Contractor Ashworth at G. W. Staggs' place on Dry creek near Weston. It is 60 feet long, 56 feet wide, and 51 feet high, and is designed after the best modern ideas. Driveways lead through it and the doors are equipped with rollers. It contains two grain bins, convenient stalls for horses and cows, and a place for buggies. It will accommodate about 24 head of horses. When painted Mr. Staggs' valuable farm improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $1800. John Baker is engaged this week in applying the paint brush.—Weston Leader.

Football Games Today.

New York, Nov. 12.—The football season for 1904 approaches the apex of its glory today with games among the big colleges and universities the country over. The three big games scheduled for the Middle West are Chicago and Michigan at Ann Arbor, Wisconsin and Minnesota at Minneapolis and Illinois and Northwestern at Evanston. On the Pacific coast Leland Stanford and the University of California meet in their annual contest.

Rossa to Revisit Ireland.

New York, Nov. 12.—O'Donovan Rossa, the once famous Fenian leader but who for some years has lived quietly in this city, sailed on the Etruria today on a visit to his native land. The principal purpose of his visit is to officiate at the unveiling of a few weeks hence of a monument erected at Skibbereen in memory of the Manchester martyrs and other Irishmen executed by the English government.

"Tennessee's Partner."

"Hazel Kirk" presented by the Weldemann Stock Company last night, drew another large crowd. This afternoon the bill is "Tennessee's Partner." The performance tonight will be the same. The company closes its engagement tomorrow night with the laughable farce comedy, "My Uncle From New York."

Fanaticism of Doukhobors

For several weeks past the Doukhobors have been giving the Royal Northwest Mounted police of Manitoba considerable trouble. Every few days a band of them has started on a search for Jesus, and no sooner do the police get one band safely settled back in their homes than another starts out on the rampage. Twice in the last month did a large number of them go out on a pilgrimage, annoying the English speaking people and terrorizing the women and children.

Several fanatics are responsible for these raids and have excited their fellows to wild acts by prophesying that the second coming of the Messiah is at hand. Many of these fanatics have been studying their Bibles night and day of late, and each one has selected a different date for the second coming of the Saviour, and on each date a pilgrimage has started, its size having been governed by the popularity of the prophet. When these pilgrims start on a rampage they first turn loose all their cattle and sheep, and then spend the night in prayer. When the first streaks of gray appear in the East they leave their village headed by the prophet who has proclaimed the coming of the Messiah.

They march along in an aimless sort of way, heading for nowhere in particular, and as they march they chant some doleful song. Their clothing they cast away, because they think that it has been made by the assistance of animal labor, and they consider all beasts of burden unclean and cursed by God.

Of late a few of them have begun to use horses, but the more fanatical of them still hitch their wives and daughters to the plows and wagons. Several times these pilgrimages have numbered nearly a thousand men, women and children, who march along without a stitch of clothing to cover their bodies.

Some of the weaker women and young children are placed in wagons, which are drawn by the women, while the men attend to the chanting. At such times they refuse all kinds of food except that which they can gather by the wayside. When these pilgrimages are started in the winter, the plight of the wandering Doukhobors soon becomes pitiable from want of clothing and food, several of them having died on the first trek they made in this country.

When Lord Minto, the governor general of Canada, made his great overland ride of inspection last month, these people again started out, his coming being coincident with a prophecy that the Saviour was on His way to the Doukhobor colonies. However, their trek was soon headed off by the mounted police, the leaders put in irons and taken to Regina jail and the pilgrims taken back to their farms.

When the decree of the czar went forth that these people could no longer live in Russia after their own fashion, the Canadian government offered them inducements to come to Canada, and gave them large tracts of fertile land in the Northwest territories.

Apart from these lapses into fanaticism, they have shown that they are good settlers and a welcome addition to the sparsely settled regions of the Canadian Northwest.

Peter Verigin, whom the Doukhobors look upon as a leader, has been in this country only two years, after spending 20 years of his life in the mines of Siberia, where he suffered the greatest cruelties at the hands of the guards and jailers. Since his arrival here he has altered the character of the community, has changed its modes of agriculture, gradually introducing modern methods, and has built up organization out of chaos.

Several thousand acres of land have been broken in the Doukhobor colonies, and the land under cultivation next year will be at least double the crop area of the present year.

Last year the Doukhobors expended more than $75,000 in the purchase of land and machinery. The latest implement secured by them is a steam plow, and it is the first in that part of Canada. At the present time 17 steam engines are used in the community.

These engines run flour mills, saw-mills, flax mills, etc. During the times that the Doukhobors have had these engines they have not been idle for a single day, excepting Sundays. When one village has no use for them, another has, so that they are always being moved around to where they will be of the most advantage.

To Resume California Service. ## It Is Wonderful

COMPETITORS ALL OUT-DISTANCED.

The awarding of the only prize for Blankets, Indian Robes, Indian Shawls and Indian Couch Covers at St. Louis to the Pendleton Woolen Mills adds but very little to the fame of this celebrated line of goods, but the circumstances surrounding the goods sent to the Fair show that this line really merits all the honor as this was not a prepared exhibit.

It is usual for manufacturers to prepare something especially fine for exhibition purposes, but these goods were packed on a "hurry-up" order direct from the shelves of the stock room and are the exact qualities that are being shipped all over the country to customers.

Christmas trade has commenced to come in already, showing that there is going to be greater interest all over the country in these Robes, Etc., for holiday presents.

Pendleton people should bear this in mind. Nothing pleases friends in the East more than one of these robes. They not only advertise the City of Pendleton, but are the most appropriate souvenir of the Great West now obtainable.

THE SMOKING JACKETS bid fair to soon overtake the robes in popularity, as orders are coming in from nearly all the points where samples have been shown.

They are without doubt the swellest thing and the latest novelty in Smoking Jackets. By the way,

Fire! Fire! Fire!

SATURDAY, NOV. 12

IS FIREMEN'S DAY AT SULLIVAN & BOND'S

RECOGNIZING THE VALUABLE SERVICE RENDERED THE CITY BY OUR PATRIOTIC FIREMEN, WHO ARE EVER READY TO RESPOND TO THE CALL FOR THEIR SERVICE WHO BRAVE THE DANGERS OF BEING INJURED, IF NOT KILLED, AND WHO FACE SURGING AND SWEEPING FLAMES AND STAND IN ITS PATH OF DESTROYING ELEMENT; SOMETIMES DRENCHED TO THE VERY SKIN AND SUBJECTING THEMSELVES TO SICKNESS AND SEVERE COLDS, WE HAVE DECIDED TO SHOW OUR APPRECIATION BY GIVING

10 Per Cent of Every Dollar We Take in Saturday, Nov. 12

The money is to go into the Firemen's Relief Fund, which has been created to aid disabled and sick firemen, and the members of the families. There is no cause in the city more deserving of help than this fund.

Pendleton certainly has reason to feel proud of its noble firemen. They are a gentlemanly lot of fellows, who have volunteered their services to fight the destroying element, and to protect the life and property of citizens. At all hours, day or night, they are ready to leave comfortable homes or places of occupation in order to serve others.

Every citizen in Pendleton is, and should be interested in the Fire Department, and should aid the Relief Fund. At a meeting of the firemen of the various fire companies the Firemen's Day idea was most heartily approved and representatives of the department will have charge of the money on Firemen's Day. In order to handle the large trade which we will surely have Firemen's Day, extra clerks have been secured. We would ask that the citizens call as early in the day as possible, and help us to avoid the rush.
